

It is a right of Americans to make telemarketing phone calls to anyone with a phone. But it also a right of Americans with a phone to have the option of not receiving these calls. No different than smoking being legal in this country, but not in "blocked" areas, such as stores, restaurants, etc. I preferr "non-telemarketing" sections. Don't take away my right to have a prefference.